For past 50 years AFC India Limited has been working in the domain of Agriculture and in last 10 years AFC has shifted its focus on development of Organic Farming. Since then, AFC has been working in Various States across the country with State and Central government Schemes on organic farming in various role. For last 2 years AFC has been closely working with Agriculture department of Uttar Pradesh for the development of Organic Farming as Service Provider (Support Agency) and Regional Council for other Service providers under NAMAMI GANGE Project of the Government. During this time while working in field with the farmers the experts of AFC felt a need to develop a manual which can help the farmer understand the need, benefits and the procedure to do organic farming, as most of the farmers are very reluctant to opt for it and wants to continue with the ongoing farming techniques only. With a will to change the stereotype and to create awareness and to make farmer lean towards the Organic Farming, we i.e., AFC India Limited developed a Manual on Organic Farming named “Technical Manual for Nutrient, Pest and Disease Management in Organic Farming”. When the book was ready the AFC team was keen to share it with all the stakeholders working in this domain, so the team decided to do a book release and with idea of book- release it was also decided to have a State Level workshop “State Level Workshop for Promotion of Organic Farming in Uttar Pradesh”.
